Life Insurance

Welcome to AIG

Life Insurance is designed to pay a single sum of money if you die or are diagnosed with a terminal illness.

The purpose of this document is to help you decide whether Life Insurance is right for you, featuring all the key bits you need to know. We've highlighted words and sections that'll help you understand how things work.

The full terms, conditions and exclusions of this insurance can be found in the Insurance Details and Insurance Summary. The Insurance Details gives you all the terms and conditions of the insurance and the Insurance Summary will be a personalised summary of your insurance if you decide to take it out. We'll let you know throughout this document when you might want to take a look at these.

You'll get a copy of the Insurance Details and Insurance Summary if you decide to buy from us.

Check it's right for you

You'll need to decide if this product meets your financial needs, so please read this document carefully and check it's right for you.

Giving us the right information

So your insurance matches your needs, it's really important that you provide us with information that's true, accurate and complete when you apply for your insurance. If you don't, it can cause problems later on, like your insurance being cancelled or a claim being rejected or reduced.

Who are we?

We're AIG Life Limited (AIG for short). We specialise in insurance in the UK that helps people experiencing tough times in life – such as life insurance, critical illness and income protection cover.

What is Life Insurance?

Life Insurance is designed to support you and your family financially when you're seriously ill or die. It can help pay any outstanding debts or contribute towards your mortgage.

This type of insurance will pay out a single sum of money whilst you're insured if you die or if you're diagnosed with a terminal illness. It only protects you against events that happen to you while you're insured. If something happens outside that time, you won't be insured. Your Insurance Summary will show you when your insurance starts and ends.

What does terminal illness mean?

A terminal illness means that the illness either has no known cure, or has progressed to the point where it can't be cured.

A claim for terminal illness can be made where you've been diagnosed by a medical consultant with an illness that is expected to lead to death within 12 months. If the consultant can't diagnose this, or expects death to occur more than one year after diagnosis, AIG won't pay a terminal illness claim.

We'll only make a payment for a diagnosis of a terminal illness if you meet the definition in the Insurance Details.

Who can buy Life Insurance?

To apply for this insurance, you must be resident in the United Kingdom, be at least 17 years old and no older than 86.

You can choose to insure:

- you alone – we call this single life insurance; or
- you and another person – we call this joint life insurance.

What does joint life insurance mean?

Joint life insurance is where two people need insurance so if one person dies or is diagnosed with a terminal illness, the other is provided with financial support. The insurance will only pay out once. The insurance is jointly owned and ends when a payment is made meaning the other person is no longer insured under this insurance.

The fundamentals - how it works

The amount of insurance

You decide how much insurance you want. This is the amount we pay if you die or are diagnosed with a terminal illness before your insurance ends.

Reviewing your insurance

Make sure you review your insurance needs in line with your earnings and lifestyle. If you don't, you may find you have more or less insurance than you actually need.

The length of your insurance

This is how long your insurance lasts. This type of insurance is designed to cover you while you've still got things to pay, like childcare, bills or a mortgage. You can choose any number of years between 3 and 70, although your insurance must end before you reach your 90th birthday.

Types of insurance

You can choose whether you'd like the amount of your insurance to stay the same or change over time.

- Level – the amount stays the same throughout.
- Decreasing – designed to cover any big debts you're paying off. The amount of your insurance decreases each month, to reach zero when your insurance ends. It works in the same way as the outstanding amount on a repayment mortgage, with an annual interest rate of 8%.
- Increasing – the amount of your insurance will increase in line with any increase in the Retail Price Index (RPI), up to a maximum annual increase of 10%. This may not be available to everyone.

Protecting your insurance against inflation

Inflation will reduce the spending power of any money you're paid in the future. Choosing increasing insurance can help protect your insurance against this effect.

The amount you pay will increase each year to pay for the extra insurance. It'll increase by a higher percentage than the amount of your insurance, because you're more likely to claim as you get older.

If you need to take a break from the annual increase, you can choose to stop, skip and restart it. When you stop or skip it, the amount of your insurance and how much you pay will stay as it was when you made that change. If you restart it, it starts increasing again. We can't restart it if you've stopped your increase for three years in a row.

For more information, take a look at section 3.3 in the Insurance Details.

Paying for your insurance

We'll collect monthly or annual payments from you by direct debit until your insurance ends.

The amount you pay won't change, unless you choose increasing insurance where the amount you pay will increase each year to pay for the extra insurance.

The amount you pay could also change if:

- you make a change to your insurance
- your insurance becomes subject to tax, or
- any information you provided as part of your application is incorrect.

If you miss a payment

If any payment remains unpaid for more than 30 days from the date it was due to be collected, we'll stop your insurance and you'll no longer be insured. You may be able to reinstate your insurance by paying any outstanding payments up to six months after a missing payment.

Value of the insurance

This isn't a savings or investment product. Your insurance has no cash value unless a valid claim is made.

Changing your insurance

You can change your insurance in the following ways:

- Reduce the amount of your insurance
- Reduce the length of your insurance
- Stop and restart annual increases if you've chosen increasing insurance
- Change your payments from monthly to annual, and vice versa, or
- Change your joint life insurance to one single life insurance or two separate single life insurances.

For more information, including limitations, please read the Insurance Details.

Mortgage guarantee

If you choose decreasing insurance in connection with a mortgage, and at the time of making a successful claim the amount of your insurance is less than the amount of the outstanding mortgage, we'll pay the amount outstanding on your mortgage, provided that:

- the difference between the amount of insurance and the outstanding mortgage is solely due to the mortgage being charged an annual interest rate higher than 8%
- the initial annual interest rate charged on the mortgage at the start of your insurance was less than 10%

- your insurance doesn't end before your mortgage is due to be repaid, and
- the amount you were insured for at the start of your insurance was at least the size of the mortgage, or the part of the mortgage your insurance covers.

Home purchase insurance

If you're purchasing a property, we'll automatically give you free insurance between when you exchange contracts and when the purchase of your home is completed. In Scotland, this will be from when missives are completed for the property until the date of entry into the property.

Home purchase insurance will begin once you've chosen when you want your insurance to start and you've exchanged contracts.

Home purchase insurance will end 90 days from the date it starts, on the date of completion, or on the date your insurance starts, whichever comes first. If the date of completion happens before your insurance is due to start, you won't be insured during this time.

Home purchase insurance will pay the lower of:

- the amount of insurance requested in your application or the purchase price of your home, as confirmed when contracts are exchanged or
- £1,000,000 if you die.

We're unable to consider a claim for terminal illness under home purchase insurance.

Your insurance will end if a payout is made under home purchase insurance.

Things you need to know

Making a claim

If you need to claim, you or the person claiming should get in touch as soon as you can using the contact details provided.

If you'd like to know more about how to claim, you can find this in the Insurance Details or visit our website aiglife.co.uk.

We'll pay the insurance to the person legally entitled to receive it. This will be confirmed when a claim is made. It'll depend on the nature and circumstance of the claim and whether the insurance has been assigned or held in trust.

Where a claim can be made

If you're diagnosed with a terminal illness, you can be residing anywhere in the world when you make a claim. However, your diagnosing consultant must be in a eligible country.

For a death claim, you can be anywhere in the world.

For more details on eligible countries, take a look at section 4 of the Insurance Details.

When we won't pay a claim

More insurance claims are paid than aren't. Here are the reasons why we won't pay a claim:

- you stopped making regular payments throughout the term of your insurance
- you provided inaccurate information when you applied for the insurance
- you don't give us medical or other evidence that we ask for, or
- you didn't tell us if any of the information in the Insurance Summary or Application Details we sent you when you bought your insurance was wrong.

It's important to be accurate and thorough when applying. If you don't take sufficient care and give us information that's untrue, incomplete or inaccurate, we may need to cancel or change your insurance so that it fits what we should have been told about. So if you later spot an error in your documents, contact us as soon as possible to change it.

For more details on when we won't pay a claim, take a look at section 1.4 in the Insurance Details.

Changing your mind about Life Insurance

If you change your mind about having Life Insurance within 30 days of receiving your insurance documents, we'll refund any money you've paid, unless we've already paid a claim under your insurance.

If you don't cancel your insurance within this time period, your insurance will remain in place.

If you stop your insurance after 30 days, your insurance will end on the day before your next monthly payment is due and you won't get any money back. If you pay annually, your insurance will end on the day before the next monthly anniversary of your insurance and we'll refund any remaining balance of your annual payment.

Your insurance has no surrender value at any time.

The law

This insurance is governed by the laws of England and Wales.

Language

All our communications with you now, and throughout the duration of your insurance, will be in English. If you have specific communication needs, we'll do our best to support you. Just let us know.

Current tax rules

Under current legislation and HMRC practice, the amount of insurance we pay out is normally free from Income Tax and Capital Gains Tax for UK residents, unless you assign your insurance to someone else.

Professional guidance should be sought before any type of assignment or changed ownership is undertaken.

If your insurance isn't placed in trust, the amount we pay may form part of your estate for inheritance tax purposes.

You may wish to place your insurance in trust to help mitigate the effect of inheritance tax. We recommend that you take professional advice before setting up a trust.

Personal information we collect

Personal information we collect about you includes sensitive information such as your health and medical history. Where we collect this information, we'll rely either on your consent, or on a combination of the following justifications: performing a contract with you or preparing to enter into a contract with you; complying with regulatory requirements; or having a legitimate interest to request your personal information.

To give you a quicker decision about your insurance, we'll make decisions about your application using an 'automated decision-making tool'. An 'automated decision-making tool' doesn't involve human input and we sometimes use it to determine whether we're able to provide you with insurance and on what terms based on the answers you give us.

We may also use your personal information to detect, investigate and prevent crime (including fraud and money laundering).

Where permitted by applicable law, AIG Life Limited may share personal information with carefully selected third parties, for example, other insurers, reinsurers, and financial advisers.

As you have been introduced to us by Skipton Building Society, we'll share limited information about you with them to prevent duplicate communications, for our own business processes, and as per their legitimate interests.
